From the President's Desk:

Dear Members,

As we navigate the complexities of healthcare in Tamil Nadu, one pressing issue stands out: the nursing shortage. This challenge not only impacts the quality of patient care but also places immense pressure on our existing healthcare workforce. With an increasing population and a rising demand for medical services, our healthcare facilities are struggling to maintain adequate nursing staff. This shortage is exacerbated by factors such as burnout, migration of skilled professionals, and insufficient educational opportunities. It is crucial that we address this issue collectively. We must advocate for improved working conditions, competitive salaries, and supportive environments that encourage nurses to remain in the profession. Additionally, expanding nursing education programs and creating scholarships can help attract new talent to our field. As we work together to overcome these challenges, let us remember that a robust nursing workforce is vital for the health and well-being of our communities. I urge each of you to engage in discussions about potential solutions and to support initiatives aimed at strengthening our nursing sector. Together, we can ensure that Tamil Nadu's healthcare system remains resilient and capable of providing the highest standard of care to all.

Warm regards,

Dr Sathish Devadoss MS ortho, MCh Orth(UK), FASIF (AUSTRALIA)

Collaboration:

It is with immense pleasure that we announce the collaboration between AHPI TN and Ebekmed Edventures Pvt. Ltd., formalized on 29 September 2024, at the Hilton Hotel in Chennai. Ebekmed aims to transform the landscape of healthcare education and training by establishing state-of-the-art skill labs and simulation labs across various locations. Our programs focus on identifying gaps, conducting competency assessments, and ensuring the job readiness of students, with OSCE standards upheld in all core skills training for both new and experienced nurses. By partnering with Ebekmed, AHPITN addresses the healthcare sector's demand for highly skilled professionals. Ebekmed contributes to the development of well-trained nurses and other healthcare professionals who are equipped to meet the practical and regulatory needs of healthcare institutions, including patient safety, quality control, and healthcare technology. The extensive network of AHPITN enables Ebekmed to establish valuable connections for internships, job placements, and joint initiatives. Additionally, as a retention strategist, Ebekmed helps the healthcare sector retain its highly trained staff, reduce turnover rates, and improve continuity of care, thereby enhancing the overall efficiency and reputation of the industry. This collaboration between Ebekmed and AHPI TN has the potential to foster research and joint initiatives focused on advancing clinical training methods and improving healthcare practices, ultimately benefiting the healthcare industry. This Memorandum of Understanding between AHPI TN and Ebekmed marks a significant step toward advancing healthcare education and professional development. We look forward to a fruitful partnership that will pave the way for excellence in nursing education and make a positive contribution to the healthcare landscape.

Regards

Mr Sreekanth
